THE OLD WASH TUB HAS COME A LONG WAY

Yesterday's Housewife Earned Her Laundry Laurels

Woman's determination to keep the family clean from the skin out has brought the wash tub and scrub board a long way in the last hundred or so years. Maybe the American housewife couldn't exercise the right to vote back in the 1890's, but she could and did prod man into inventing better laundering equipment and speedier methods to turn out a load of clean clothes.

A reproduction of the Sears, Roebuck and Company catalogue of 1897, produced by Chelsea House Publishers, and copies of subsequent issues brought to light the fascinating evolution of wash day props as they were introduced to the American home. It's not to hard to imagine the housewife's gratification when she first came upon a neat, improved combination wringer-and-bench for $2.75! Not only did this "progressive" model fold up for tucking out of sight, and provide a resting place for washtubs, but it did away with the extra chore of having to hold the tubs steady while turning the wringer! A few years later, the catalogue offered another improvement - a round washing machine of white pine, perched on tall legs, with a removable round crate inside to contain the laundry -- for only $3.98. Of course, water still had to be toted to fill the crate. Then, came the all-metal washing machine, a copper cylinder that "rocked thoroughly" and had a power-type swinging wringer.

In that same year, the catalogue offered the "latest and best" ball-bearing washing machine, "warrented not to leak." This cost only $4.80! There was also a "Quick and Easy" washer for $1.95 -- without the necessary elbow grease required. Competing with a rotary washer, at $4.95, with a hand wheel that could be turned backwards and forwards.

In 1913, the High Speed Wizard Washer came along -- a "big labor saver and time saver." Needless to say, the "high speed" depended on how fast one's arm could move the lever.

When considering the streamlined washers of today, with cycles for special fabrics, varying wash speeds and water temperatures, automatic product dispensers -- we might well give a thought to the proud housewife of the early $900's when she beheld her latest treasure -- the Power Washing and Wringing Machine. It involved the use of a gasoline engine, belt, two washtubs, a tub bench and a clothes basket. And when all set up in the home, left her barely enough standing room to operate it! We have truly come a long way on washday homemakers!

CRAFTY IDEAS

Sweet Thought

Are entertaining way to spend some time—and save some money—is in the creative kind of cooking that can be enjoyed by anyone of almost any age.

One thing you can do is make your own brown sugar—and save about 15 percent of the store price.

Make as much as you need to turn out great glazes, and perfect pastries for the next few days.

For the equivalent of one-half cup of brown sugar, blend one-half cup granulated white sugar with two tablespoons unsulphured molasses.

You don't have to premix the sugar and molasses when they will be blended with other ingredients in a recipe, just add them both to the mixture.

Unsulphured molasses, such as Grandma's Molasses, can also be substituted for brown sugar entirely, in many recipes, because of its light taste and sweetness not found in other types of molasses.

Cooking with molasses seems like a sweet way to wile away a rainy day.

The most common surname in the United States is Smith. Close to 2.5 million Smiths reside here.

APPLESAUCE COOKIES

½ cup margarine (softened)
1 cup light brown sugar (packed)
1 egg
¾ cup applesauce
Mix well together.
Sift Together:
1¾ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspon salt (add to the above)
Add:
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup chopped nuts (preferably walnuts)
1 cup raisins

Drop onto a cookie sheet covered with wax paper from a teaspoon.
Cook for 8 to 10 minutes in a 350° oven.

ICING:
1 Tablespoon soft margarine
1¼ cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons cream or milk
½ teaspoon vanilla

CANCER Answer line

American Cancer Society

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

A lawyer notes: "I've read about the new x-ray body scanners, and I would like to know how useful they are in dealing with cancer."

ANSWERline: You are referring to computerized axial tomography, "CAT," which enables physicians to see images of the body in cross-section slices from the head down. "CAT" scanners are being used clinically, and they are proving useful in finding difficult-to-detect tumors within the body such as brain tumors. Manufacturers are still perfecting the machinery in hopes of cutting down scan time to prevent blurred pictures that can be caused by body movements such as the heartbeat. "CAT" is an expensive tool, one that medical institutions are beginning to learn to use economically and effectively.

A teenage boy writes: "I do a lot of water activities both for fun and I work as a lifeguard. I have very fair skin and burn very easily. So I wear a tee shirt even in the pool. Why do I still have a problem with the sun?"

ANSWERline: You are wise to protect yourself from excess sun, which can cause skin cancer. However, a tee shirt won't work because when wet, it allows half of the sun's damaging ultra-violet rays to get through to your sensitive skin. Your local American Cancer Society Unit has a pamphlet called "Sense in the Sun!" with facts, practical advice, and insight into common myths about sunning. It's yours for the asking.

A postal worker asks: "When did scientists first discover that cigarettes are so bad for you?"

ANSWERline: Tobacco smoking has been questioned since it was first introduced into Europe by Spanish explorers in the 16th century. To jump a few centuries, in 1927 an English physician, Dr. F.R. Tylecote, reported that in almost every case of lung cancer he had seen or studied, the patient was a regular smoker. Other physicians, notably Dr. Alton Ochsner, a surgeon and a past president of the American Cancer Society, began noticing and writing about a surge of lung cancer deaths among cigarette smokers, and then in 1949 the ACS began to support research into a causative association between cigarettes and lung cancer. By 1951 the Society's own scientists were involved in a pioneering study that covered 187,783 men for nearly four years and the investigators found much higher death rates among cigarette smokers. In 1961 the U.S. Surgeon General began a sweeping study that clearly established the cigarette hazard. By the end of the decade studies of laboratory animals taught to smoke offered additional proof that cigarettes and lung cancer are unquestionably causally related to each other.

NEWS OF FASHION

Uniforms With Style

Uniforms aren't so uniform anymore.

Fashion is a passion that makes it hard to tell a beautician or a waitress by the clothes she wears:

EASY AS PIE—With good-looking uniforms like this easy-care pantsuit designed by Frances Gee for Pizza Hut

Restaurants, people are finding it easy to look fashionable on the job.

Uniform shops now are featuring more trendy styles because uniform wearers want fashion all day, not just after work. And new warp knits of Avlin polyester keep colors and fashions bright after repeated washings.

The jumpsuit is the latest fashion trend to hit a uniform market already jumping with the joys of pantsuits, T tops, and vest, jumper and wrap looks.

A popular new fabric in white uniforms is the crinkly "Indian muslin" look. In Avlin polyester it's cool, practical and attractive.

Although most nurses still prefer white uniforms, other women are choosing solid splashes of color, denim looks, patchwork prints and ethnic patterns.

What it all comes down to is that uniforms are marching into fashion.

"An ideal is often but a flaming vision of reality."
Joseph Conrad

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN

Young people who want to help prevent fires during Fire Prevention Week (October 9-15) and all year long, can join the Junior Fire Marshal program sponsored by agents of The Hartford Insurance Group. Junior Fire Marshals take this safety pledge:

YOUNGSTERS CAN TAKE THE PLEDGE—to help prevent fires.

I will never play with matches.

I will tell my friends not to play with matches.

I will never go near a fire unless a grown-up is with me.

I will never use the stove unless my mother says I may and only when she is right there with me.

I will learn what to do in case of fire.

I will never turn in a false alarm.

I will always be a good Junior Fire Marshal. I will try to make Mom and Dad, my teacher and our firemen proud of me.

MAGIC TRICKS

From The Shari Lewis Magic Club

Odd Man Out

Divide a deck of cards in half. Have someone pick a card from one half and put it in the other half. Shuffle the half with the "secret" card. Fan the cards out and pick out the "secret" one.

You can learn how to do many tricks like this by reading the secrets on Dixie Magic Tricks Cups for Kids. The secret of this one was that the odd cards, Ace, 3, 5, 7, 9, Jack and King were put together before starting, and the even cards were together. Don't mix them when dividing the deck and the secret card will be the even one in the odd half or the odd one in the even half.
